There is something that makes a student want to learn, makes him want to ask why and makes him challenge and expect an answer. But these answers are not only to questions about Tolstoy or grammar, because there is so much more to education than books and testing. A good teacher must be able to put into the Pep Club, or the English Department or a film festival or Sandburg special all the importance they, too, warrant. And then, even after a day of classes, a faculty meeting and lay readers, she still must have a little something left that makes it possible to find time to talk to a student, smiling if she can help, frowning if she cannot.

The 1968 MESSENGER is dedicated to one such teacher, Mrs. Lucy Milner.

introduction

Far beyond the time when the sharp edges of reality have blurred into warm nostalgic remembrance, images of the way these years have happened will remain clear. We have seen color and excitement, purpose and direction grow from within ourselves. We have known how understanding can come in an instant, exploding into our minds at a single perfect phrase. Disappointment and elation, failure and achievement in every application of the human mind -- these are the lasting images of Durham High School.

Durham High School means coming to school with the Marching Band early enough to feel October frost crunching under your tennis shoes on the still-dark field. It is painting banners for the Budget Drive, and building scenery for the Senior Class Play. It is the excitement of a football game after a touchdown, when confetti comes raining down all over you and the friends around you. It is sitting in the middle of a crowded class and wanting to be outside in the rain. It is sharing the art of James Joyce and Thomas Mann, and it is staying late to finish a chemistry lab. It is hearing a bell ring, and sleeping in class.

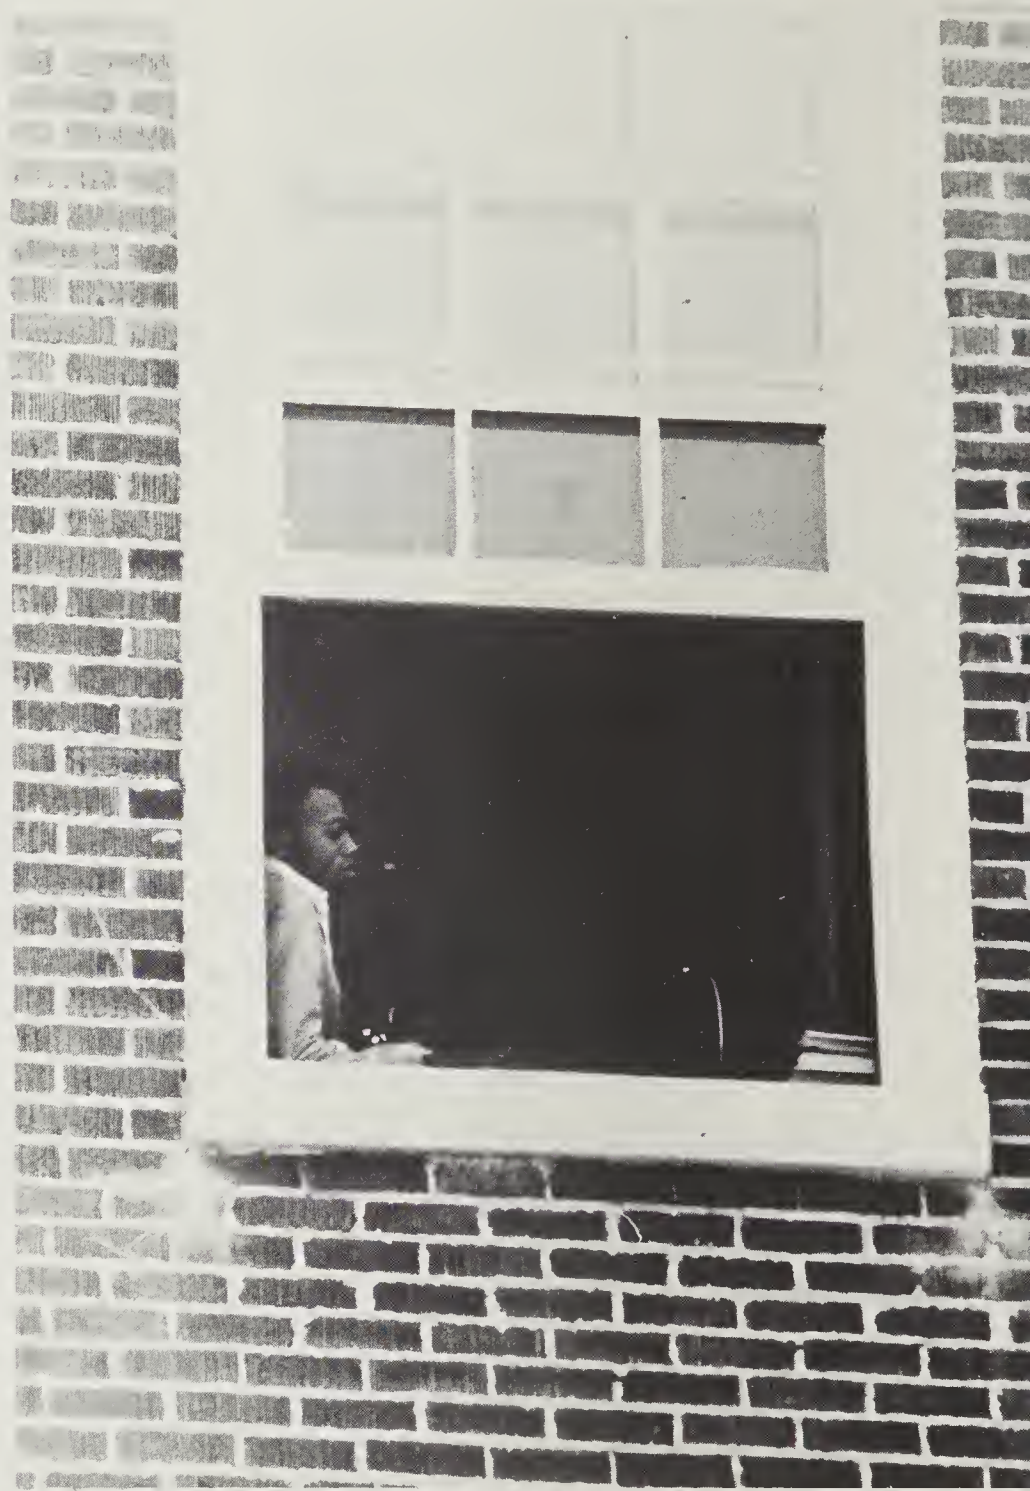

Durham High School is pressing leaves for a collection, and discussing an algebra problem after class. It is dissecting an earthworm, and memorizing a speech. It is being asked to join an honor society, and selling tickets to a concert. It is knowing the first bright taste of the apple you brought for lunch, and hearing the echoes of a clarinet practicing downstairs. It is the principal speaking in an assembly, and a cheerleader shouting in a pep rally. It is the smile of a favorite teacher, and it is keeping an autumn leaf through spring.

Durham High School is a myriad of faces — as expressive and as varied as the minds behind them. Faces scowling and burdened, blushing and dreaming, faces of pride and pressure and satisfaction walk crowded halls and sit alone in the auditorium. Look into the faces closely — there are the moods of Durham High School.

Durham High School is a guide and an incentive, a friend and a goal. Perhaps most of all, it is a window, through which we can look outward to the world and inward to ourselves.

Principal and board . . .

In these pages, we record the present in order that the future may recall the past in fond and joyful recollection. So, this book becomes a MESSENGER of events too important to forget. It is our sincere hope that no one will be able to look back upon these days without a feeling of pride, mixed with joy and excitement.

English and its related subjects reach every student at Durham High. These courses are designed to produce growth in understanding the human and artistic experience of literature and development of the ability to communicate thoughtful response to all reading. This year's curriculum is varied and includes all periods and genres of literary works. Sophomores are introduced to the classic Silas Marner and get their first taste of Shakespeare in Julius Caesar. Juniors explore American literature in The Scarlet Letter and Our Town, while Seniors trace the history of English literature from Canterbury Tales to the most current works.

Public Speaking

In Journalism courses students learn about and participate in the productions of the news media. Public Speaking teaches the techniques of debate and the art of speaking before an audience. The dramatics class broadens the students' knowledge of the theatre and encourages participation in dramatic productions.

This year's class studies were enriched by broader school programs such as The World of Carl Sandburg, a film festival and the Humanities Symposium in the spring.

All in all, the English program strives to enable the student to achieve a greater understanding of our language necessary in speaking, writing, reading, listening and seeing.

A country's language is one of its principal, cultural components, and it is also the medium through which most of the country's behaviors and beliefs are transmitted to new generations. Hence, one major element of the Language department is the guidance toward an awareness of a different culture by means of its language. The modern languages-German, Spanish, and French are using the audio-lingual approach in the first and second year courses. Records and tapes aid the student to perfect speech and comprehension. Songs and literature enliven vocabulary and grammar study as they enrich and create a feeling for the language. Latin students recognize through the study of this classical language the rudiments and foundations of English and the Romance Languages. Through this well-rounded program of study, the Durham High Language Department achieves its objective of proficiency in foreign language.

Mr. Pruner

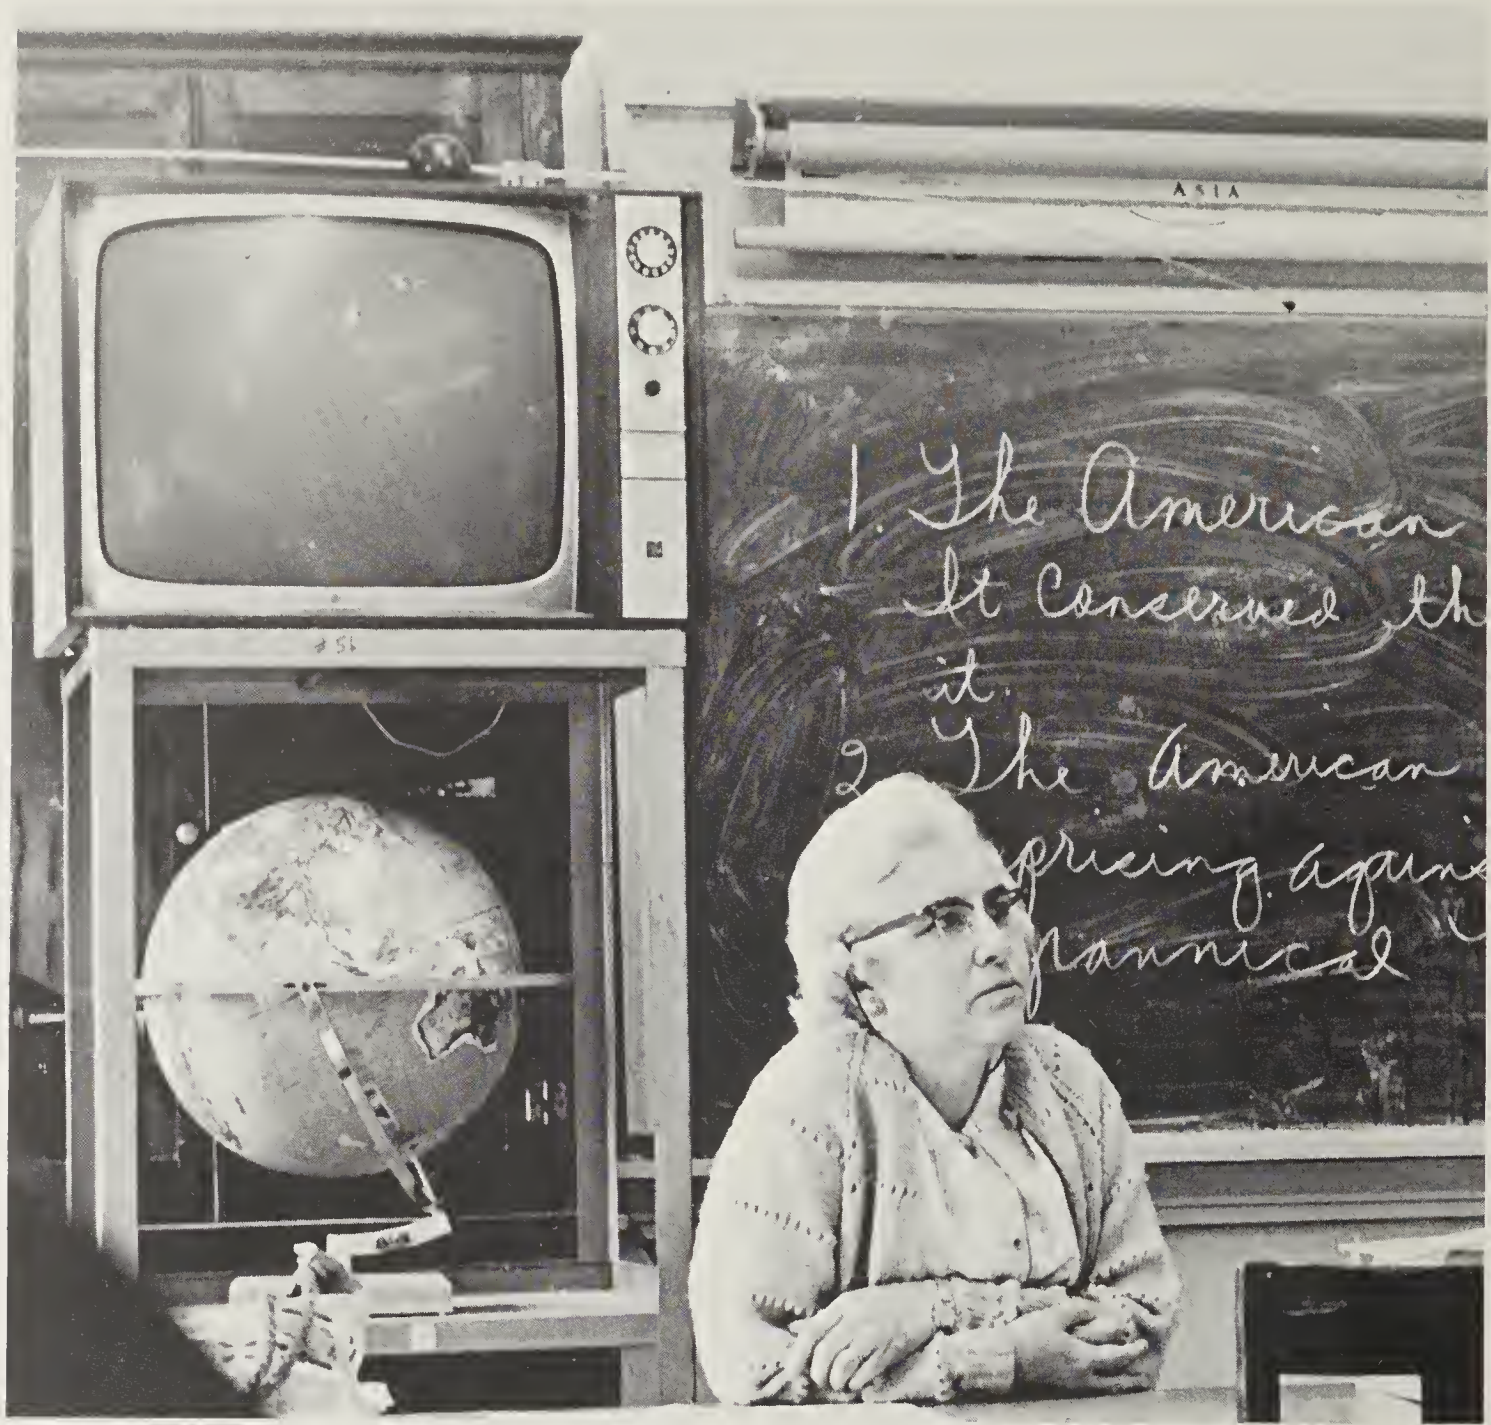

The function of the Social Science Department is to provide the student with a sufficient knowledge of the past, both of his country and his civilization, which he can use to comprehend the future of a modern and complex world. The department hopes to enable him to understand the sociological, economical, political, and historical reasons for the structure of society. It hopes to encourage the student in the spirits of humanism, liberalism, rationalism, and scientific thinking. It stresses the ideals of freedom and individualism, so that the student may learn that reliable knowledge can only be trusted after it has been judged by experience and reason. Lastly, it hopes to instill in the student the idea that to live intelligently, it is necessary to recognize that man lives through the knowledge gained from people, places, and events gone before.

Men attempting to establish some kind of logical order in their lives and work have turned to the study of Mathematics. The Durham High Math Department provides maximum flexibility in meeting student needs. Mathematics II develops an understanding of basic concepts applicable to technical courses. Modern courses in Algebra I and II develop an understanding of the structure of our number system, the principles for solving equations and inequalities, and fundamentals of problem-solving. Geometry develops further the mathematical concepts of an arithmetic and algebraic nature; it provides an understanding of two- and three-dimensional relationships and the nature of proof. Advanced courses in trigonometry, algebra III, calculus, solid geometry, and advanced mathematics expand mathematical concepts in providing a foundation for students planning advanced college study.

Man, always questioning, wanting to know more than he does, delves into the "why" of things around him. The DHS Science Department incorporates the answers to some of man's previous questions with the desire to ask more to form a challenging curriculum. Sophomores study the world of living things in Biology I, obtaining the awareness of their own world. Juniors can elect to study Chemistry I, the science of the elements that make up all they see. From there, Seniors can either dig deeper into these subjects in Biology II and Chem II, or study the laws governing their sphere in Physics. In all of these courses the teachers succeed in teaching the student by allowing him to ask questions and find the answers for himself in the lab. Thus he learns that these answers hold true both in theory and in practice.

Opening new fields . . .

Mr. Lopez - Auto Mechanics

Learning a trade, the basic concept of the Vocational-Technical department, is one of the most far-reaching and practical types of knowledge to be gained at Durham High. The students here perfect marketable skills through a program of study and on-the-job experience and emerge ready to be a valuable part of life "on the outside". This year's all-over departmental expansion has opened many new fields of work in which the students may participate.

The final product, a skilled worker, comes out of the Vocational program only after following certain steps: learning the basic formulas of his work, putting together the design of his product, and finally executing his task. Preparation of students for further education and entry into the business world are the two purposes of the Business Education department. They are accomplished by equipping students with skills and knowledge necessary for employment immediately upon graduation from high school and by providing the college-bound students with background knowledge for advanced study.

The curriculum offers a variety of courses such as typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, office practice, business English, business law, and business math for students of secretarial work. Then for students who do not wish to pursue a career in business, the department has set up a one-semester, non-credit course in personal typing. Proficiency is attained no matter what the eventual goal may be.

Responsibility.

Any freedom must be backed up by responsibility. This is clearly the case with the freedom of driving a car. Drivers' Education strives to instill in the young driver a sense of responsibility as well as the simple skills involved. Classroom instruction on the state driving laws is combined with supervised driving practice in order to produce safe teen-age drivers.

Physical discipline . . .

Now that physical education is a required course for two of the high-school years, it has come to play a more important role in the total school curriculum. A wider variety of sports is offered to students taking gym this year. Besides the usual games, football, basketball, and calisthenics, classes play ping-pong, volleyball, soccer, ring tennis, golf, and badminton. The faculty stresses that sportsmanship and the art of physical discipline are equally important as skill in sports.

Four choral groups are housed and rehearsed in Durham High's excellent music department. Each meets daily to learn and perfect musical selections which they perform at two public concerts and various civic functions during the year. Since each student must audition to be accepted in any of the choruses, each of the groups draws an "excellent" or "superior" rating in the district choral concert. Both directors and singers give their all for months to achieve musical perfection.

Two instrumental groups also meet daily at DHS. The Varsity Band is primarily a sophomore group and is a stepping-stone to the more advanced Wind Ensemble. Members of both groups are eligible for parts in the marching band. Each musician is required to learn selections of varied origin and era; all members must keep up their performances to remain in their respective organization. Participants in both groups often perform as soloists.

Artistic potential, no matter how great, must be met with guidance in order to produce true art. Durham High's department of one, Mrs. Betty West, gives the budding artist, as well as the not-so-talented but energetic art students, ground-rules on which to base his artistic attempts. By combining Art History with Art Theory, the beginning art courses give the student something to go on when he is left free to express himself. The more advanced courses give the student much time in which to experiment with varied media and his own capacities. The success of the department can be measured in Scholastic Art Awards and the many other prizes that Durham High artists gathered this year and in the personal satisfaction of artists happy with their creations.

And artistic expression are essential to all.

Audio-Visual

Essential to all phases of work at DHS is its library, a storehouse for books and materials for every department in the school. Two full-time librarians instruct new students in library usage, train assistants, select new books, and provide reading guidance. A further function of the library is a complete Audio-visual service including trained projectionists and light and sound technicians for assemblies. By continually building itself, the library helps to build Durham High.

Maria Fagundes

In its constant attempt to promote cultural understanding, the American Field Service sponsors the exchange of students in various countries. Maria Fagundes is the AFS student at Durham High this year. A citizen of Brazil, Maria has found life here a vivid contrast to that in her home, São Paulo. She takes part in the activities typical to any American high school student, carrying a full course load, participating in several clubs and committees, and living with her American family, the Marshall Spears. She also was a Homecoming representative and is a member of Student Council. In addition to Maria, Esperanza Febrel of Spain, Radim Ryzl of Czechoslovakia, and Helmuth Schweitzer of Germany have attended Durham High this year.

Lucy Crockett, chairman of the International Relations Committee, spent last summer in Turkey under the AFS program, and this year's candidates for spending a year abroad are Jean Kristeller and Martha Munn.

Bulldogs open grid season!

DHS vs. Grimsley

Slade watches action from bench

The development of Durham's Eastern Regional Runner-up football team started back around August 8. On that day the crop of would-be ballplayers stumbled out on the field to turn some the summer fat into the muscle it takes to play Bulldog football. Conditioning preceded the regular practice by a week, with tough exercising and running, building up the team physically as well as mentally while knocking out some of the stragglers. The first practice with pads was an organized effort. It was tough work, twice a day in the summer sun, hitting, running, and exercising, but the tough work payed off as the Bulldogs went north to highly rated E.C. Glass High School of Lynchburg, Va. All doubts about the 1967 club were dispelled as the big Red brought home a 33-7 victory over the team seeded to be the state champions of Virginia. Spirits were high among the ballplayers, but over-confidence apparently haunted the team, as they pulled off an unimpressive victory over the Whirlies of Greensboro Grimsly 19-14 after a 7-6 halftime deficit. No one was impressed with the game, especially the line's part in it, but the next week at home the Bulldogs redeemed themselves somewhat with a 21-7 decision over the Goldsboro Hurricanes despite penalty trouble. Traveling to Wilmington, the Bulldogs ran the Wildcats clear out of the park, with a 12-0 victory, virtually eliminating the Cats from contention for the conference championship. In a football game with Enloe High School, the Bulldogs racked up the largest score of the season, a 49-7 win, over the hapless Eagles. The overwhelming victory sent the players home hollering "We're number one!", but deflation soon came at the hands of Wilson and their lightning running back Carlister Crumpler. Holding the Bulldogs to a touchdown, the Cyclones managed a 14-6 win, ruining the Durham dream of a third straight undefeated regular season.

The Homecoming Court is chosen.

Maria Fagundes, AFS

The fall festival was highlighted this year by the DHS-Fayetteville game and the traditional crowning of the Homecoming Queen. The marching band performed, the court was presented and amid cheers and raining confetti, the DHS Bulldogs topped the occasion with a resounding victory.

The squad bounced back from the loss surprisingly well, with a tremendous win over Fayetteville. True to form, the Big Red left the first half of the game on the short end of a 7-6 score, but managed to come back for 34 points in the second half, highlighted by guard Bob Eason's pass interception and forty yard touchdown run. The scoreboard stood 40-7 when the clock ran out. The Jacksonville Cardinals were the next victims of the Durham squad in a 10-0 decision that sent the Bulldogs looking for bigger game—the Broughton Caps. Durham was looking for revenge for the 21-0 loss at the hands of the Caps in the Eastern Regional Championship game of the year before, and they got it. Again going into the second half behind, the Bulldogs pulled out two touchdowns to win the game 12-7 in the victory of the season, assuring them of a spot in the tournament. The closing game of the season was somewhat anti-climatic, as the relieved Durham team had to fight for a fourth period touchdown to beat the cellar-dwelling Rocky Mount Blackbirds 7-0. Thus Durham wound up the regular season with a 9-1 won-lost record, and looking to the Black Demons of Winston-Salem Reynolds in the first game of the state tournament.

Ten wins . . .

Both Durham and Reynolds entered the opening game of the tournament with identical 9-1 records, both having lost to the same team (Wilson), but on the strength of a big win over previously undefeated Winston-Salem Parkland, the Demons were ranked as the number one high school team in the state. Durham soon dispelled that theory by scoring a touchdown in the first three minutes of play to take the lead 7-0. Parkland never made a serious threat for the lead after that, and after adding another tally in the second half, the Bulldogs took the ball game 14-0. In the semi-finals Durham again met Wilson, on their so-called field. The drainage on the field was terrible, and the driving rain made the contest look like a swim meet in a mud puddle. Poor field conditions caused poor playing, as evidenced by the eleven fumbles by the Durham backs. Wilson, apparently used to playing knee deep in their field, took the contest with the aid of dry jerseys and socks in the second half, 13-0. There was some grumbling, but the Bulldogs had to settle for the second spot in the East.

Pep Rally bolsters team spirits

Besides a great team effort, the Durham team produced some pretty fair individual ballplayers. Three, Clarence Ramsey, Fred Horton, and Drew Pledger, drew bids to the annual Shrine Bowl, in addition to all-conference selections along with back, Terry Woods. Though starting ends Tom Wilson and Chuck Brantly and starting tackle Dave Jenkins were sidelined early in the season with injuries, others stepped in to take their place. Some standouts were: quarterbacks David Searcy, and his backup Tom Turrentine; halfbacks Woods and the other half of the lightening combination Mike Slade, Dicky Henderson, and Brant Brock; fullbacks, Ralph Stevens and David Woodside; ends, Brantly, Horton, Buzzy Vogelsang, and Gary Wilkins; tackles, Pledger, Jenkins, Olin Phillips, Duanne Addison, and Jim Scoggins; guards, Ramsey, Artis Plummer, Bob Eason, and Herbert Dalton; centers, Steve Wheeler, Doug Adams, and Danny King.

The Coaches deserve a lot of the credit of course—Coach Minyard on the line, Coach Evans with the ends, Coaches Jones and Hill with the Junior Varsity, and Head Coach Blaney, for a tremendous amount of work in preparing the team for their games morally, mentally, and physically. They are very much responsible for the 10–2 overall record of the team. They instilled the quality that won the ball games—Pride. As the motto goes. . .

“If you want to be number one, you have got to win them all. It’s as simple as that.”

Sophomores wrap up . . .

The Junior Varsity team this year fared somewhat better than the varsity club, taking all opposition and ending the season with a perfect record of six wins and no losses. The only hard fought contest came at the hands of the Baby Cyclones of Wilson, where the Baby Bulldogs pulled off a 7-6 win. One other highlight of the successful season was the 27-6 rout of the Broughton sophomores, snapping their three year winning streak. Coached by Paul Jones and Worth Hill, many of the players for this tremendous team will be good material for a future varsity club. Among them are ends, David Ennis, Jeff Simmons, and Steve Spain; tackles, Ira Smith and Bruce Elliot; guards, Bill Rand, and Keith Acrey; center, Norman Gossett; quarterbacks, Lawrence Davis, and Steve Brewer; backs, Marvin Carver and Mike Moore; fullback, Skipper Baltzglier.

CROSS-COUNTRY

A little known sport in the Durham High department, cross-country involves more work with less recognition than any other athletic endeavor here. The harriers are in continuous training for the long distance endurance running required, while most people think only the football season is in swing. The Durham squad did not have a championship season, largely due to lack of interest, but coached by Frank Evans the team managed to qualify one man for the state meet, the captain Don Wheelles. Other runners for the Bulldogs were Stuart Coman, Kim Coman, Helmuth Schweitzer, Leland Garner, and Bob Weaver.

Van Hall sits in defeat

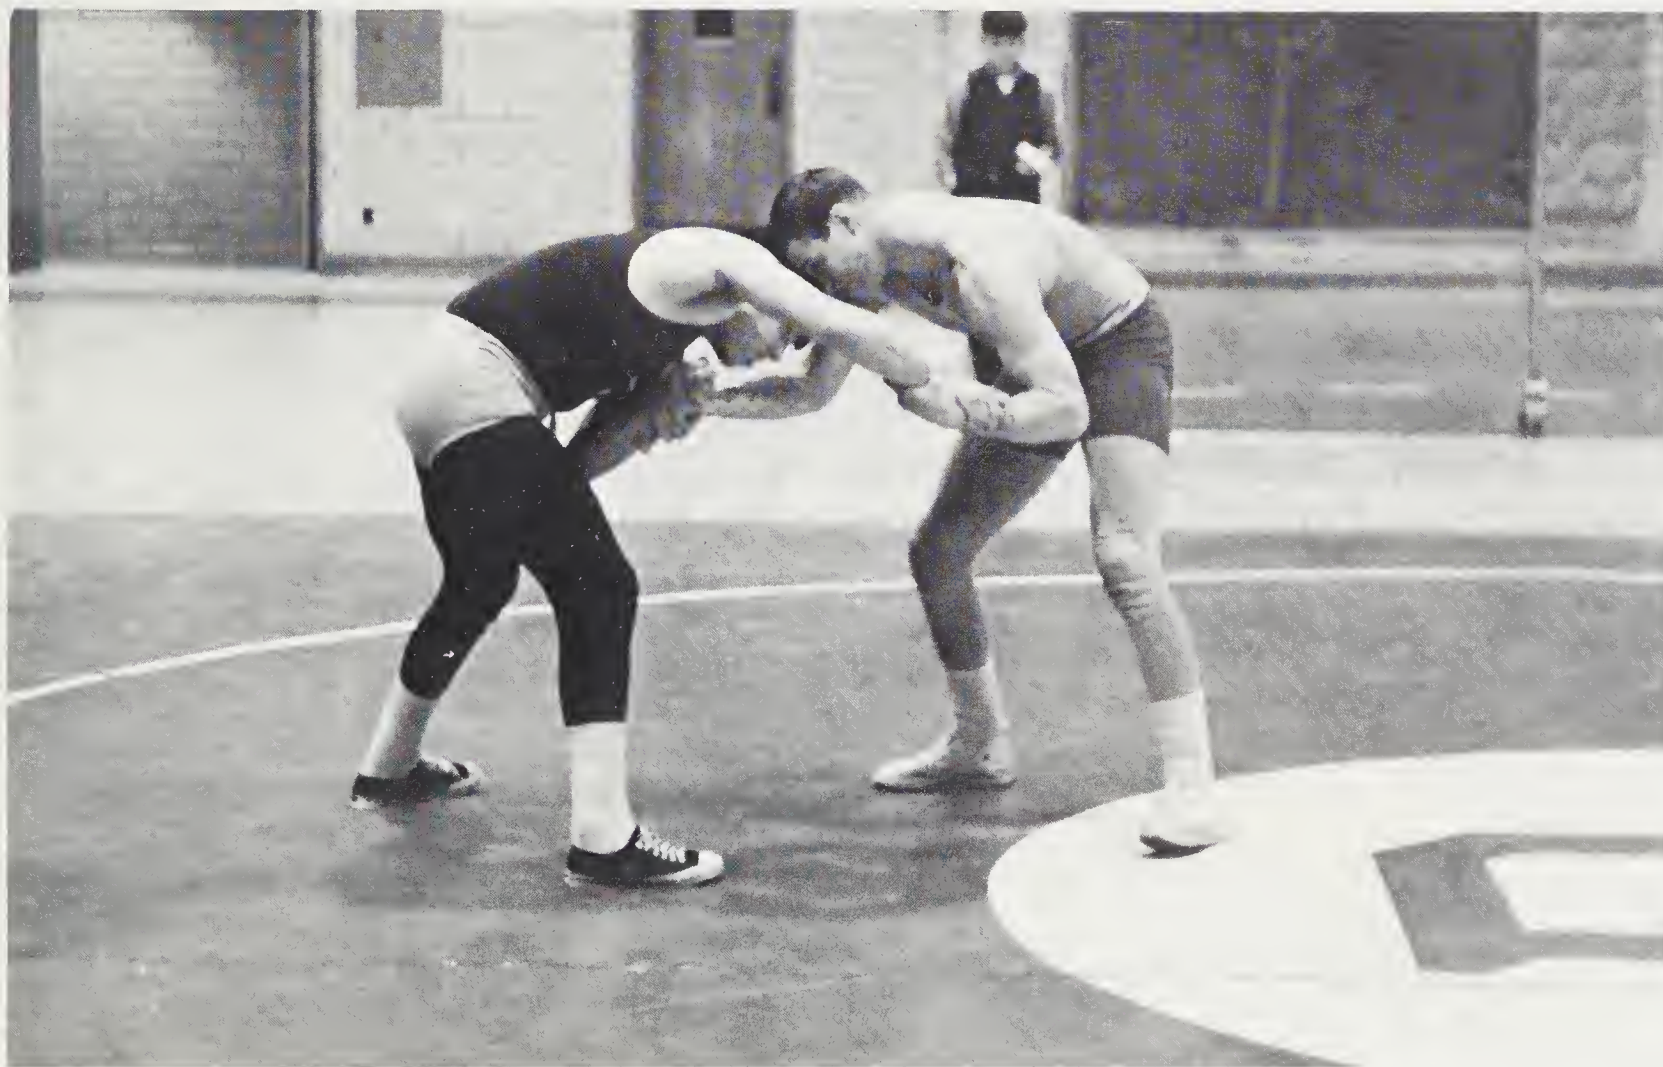

Still a new sport in North Carolina athletics, soccer was instigated in the Durham program for the second season this year. Coach Sam Arbes managed to put together a fairly well rounded first team sparked by last year's veterans, despite short practice. The Bulldogs were one of four teams entered in the State Tournament held in Buis Creek, at Campbell College. Their first and only loss was at the hands of the Wilmington Wildcats, who outplayed and outscored the Durham squad in a 5-1 contest. Center forward Bill Greuling made the lone tally for the Bulldogs. Other standouts in the match were Billy Greer, Peter Scott, Peter Baker, Bill McDonald, Helmuth Schweitzer, James Ferantatos, Bruce Frail, Van Hall, and Tom McDonald. Other starters were Charles UMBERGER, Jim YEAMAN, Andy WITHERS, and Doug RORIE. The 0-1 season record didn't seem to bother the team too much, and they look forward to other possible matches in the spring.

This year's Durham wrestling team was undoubtedly the best ever assembled in the sport's school history. Coached by Sam Arbes, the squad included experience in eight of the thirteen weight classes, with able men in the other spots. Opening the season, in the match with Broughton, they were impressive, even in defeat, scoring more points than ever before against a Broughton team, but losing the match 28-22. The next foe, Fayetteville, was defeated by the Bulldogs in a close match 24-22 climaxed by Tom O'Briant's pin of the Blue Bulldog's heavyweight. Winning only three matches, the Enloe Eagles were mauled by the Durham grapplers in a 48-13 contest, setting a season record for most points scored. Eastern Alamance of Mebane was also a victim of the Bulldogs, losing two matches by 28-22 and 30-22. Additional wins over Fayetteville 28-22, and one other loss to Raleigh Broughton, brought a successful season to a close with a 5-2 regular season record. Durham also placed seventh in the conference tournament, but managed a tie for third in the district meet on the strength of champion-

Terry Woods also managed to go undefeated though he wrestled only two matches, and heavyweight Tom O'Briant held a 5-1-1 season record. In the conference tournament Henderson took the championship in his class, while Coman and Liles were runners-up, Charles Cheek took a third place, and O'Briant took fourth in the heavyweight division. In the district tournament, Liles and Coman were champions, while Henderson, Cheek, and Festus Cameron in the 199 lb. class all took fourth places. First string wrestlers were Ray Butler 99 lbs., Stuart Coman 105 lbs., Steve Kerckhoff 114 lbs., Charles Cheek 123 lbs., Richard Thornton (Captain) 128 lbs., Andy Garner 133 lbs., Steve Ross 138 lbs., Quint Patterson 147 lbs., Mike Moore 154 lbs., Earl Liles 165 lbs., Dicky Henderson 182 lbs., Steve Wheeler 199 lbs., Festus Cameron 199 lbs., and Tom O'Briant, heavyweight.

Durham High Cagers go 17-5.

Andy Solomon

The opening game of the 1967-1968 basketball season between Durham and Myers Park of Charlotte was undoubtedly one of the most peculiar in the school's history. The Myers Park Five, swamped with managerial troubles, stomped out on the Durham court wearing blue Durham High School Sophomore Practice trunks with their regular green game jerseys. For the first quarter their playing matched their uniforms, as the Durham squad jumped off to a quick 14-0 lead, with the crowd screaming for a shutout. The quarter ended with Durham leading 16-2; it appeared as though they had sewn up the quickest game in history. The second quarter was a complete turn-about, with the Mustangs pulling within a basket of Durham at the half, and eventually taking the game 47-41, marring the Bulldog record from the start. Like the opening game, the rest of the season was anything but ordinary. After losing half the team and four of the starters because of graduation, Durham was picked to place seventh in the nine team Eastern 4-A Conference; but the bulldogs proved to be a little harder to push from first to seventh than predicted. After the disappointing loss to Myers Park, the bulldogs came back for five straight wins over Asheville, Fayetteville, Jacksonville, Wilson, and Rocky Mount. Greensboro Page proved to be tougher opposition—taking two from Durham 62-61, and 53-46; both of which were later forfeited to the Bulldogs because of training infractions by the Pirates. After a win over Enloe, Durham was dealt its only smashing defeat at the hands of the Broughton Caps (66-50), in the game that the Cap's Coach, considered to be the greatest win of his career.

The next game ended in a loss to the Wilmington Wildcats to total Durham's Conference losses at two and leave Wilmington and Broughton in clear 1-2 positions. In the conference. The second-half of the season was almost a repeat of the first, until the last three games. Durham's terrific spirit and drive showed through in a determined effort that caused the Bulldogs to lead in the Broughton game right up to the 13 second mark. At this time a desperation shot by the Cap's Chuck Anderson gave Broughton the game 59-58, killing all chances of Durham finishing higher than third in the conference. At home the Bulldogs bounced back to deal Wilmington their only loss of the entire season in a 65-62 thriller. A tough 61-60 win over Goldsboro rounded out the 16-4 regular season with a 14-3 conference record.

In the conference tournament as expected the Bulldogs romped to a 89-45 opening game win over the Cyclones of Wilson, sending Durham to the semi-finals. Here they were out hustled by Broughton again by a 65-58 loss which abruptly ended the season with a 17-5 over-all record.

Captain and center Fred Horton, standing six foot seven, was the spark plug of the ball club, leading the 4-A conference in scoring and rebounding. He maintained an average of     points and     rebounds a game. Horton led all All-Conference selections, and he, along with Ken Huband of Wilmington, was chosen most valuable player for the Eastern 4-A Conference. Horton was also chosen as Durham County's most valuable player. Durham will find it hard to replace the big man next year. Steve Masengill was second high scorer and a top outside shot who, along with Andy Solomon and Tom Turrentine, rounded out the regulars in the starting line-up. The number five position shifted between several players. It started in the hands of small, but speedy Bobby Williams—a deft ball handler and real hustler. The position then shifted to veteran David Searcy, who returned to the squad in mid-season after recovering from a football injury. From there the position alternated between Searcy and Gary Wilkins a skill-

JUNIOR VARSITY

The baby Bulldogs proved just as successful as the Varsity squad. Coached by Kelly Minyard the J.V.'s managed a 15-3 record and insured next year's varsity of a well stocked team. Billy Andrews sparked the ball club at center and was a high scorer, until he was called up for Varsity duty. At this time Bruce Elliot took over the position, with James Condor jumping for the tap. Hot shot Chico Ray took over the helm as co-captain along with Steve Brewer. Both were regular starters. Others that played with the first five were: Chip Shaw, Johnny Hintz, James Womble, and rounding out the team were Steve Spain, Bill Rand, Fred Falzone, Johnny Garrett, and Ken McBride.

TRACK TEAM

Durham opened 1968 track competition with a loss to the Hillside Hornets, unfortunately, but did manage to show off a few of the stars that should earn Durham points, especially Bob Weaver who took a first and two second places in high jumping, 100 yd dash and 220 yd dash, to end second highest scorer of the meet with 11 points. Don Wheless, Terry Woods, Bill Delamar also added points in the Durham column. Delamar and Wheless captained the squad coached by Frank Evans and assistant coach Bernie Blaney. The cindermen boast a squad of over forty supplied with off season football and basketball players, and wrestlers. Weaver, Delamar, Fred Horton, Wheless, Fred Dillahunt and Terry Woods are the sprinters up to the 880 for the squad with distance runners Stuart Coman and L. E. Boykin for the mile and up, recruited from the cross-country team. Broad jumpers were Shep Wasdell, and Fred Horton; with Johnny Hintzon, the pole vault, and Weaver with the high jump. Tom Turrentine, Lin Riley, Jay Stone, Steve McCullers, and Randy Saunders return from last year's team which placed fourth. The two newcomers will be Mickey Bailey and Gray Edwards.

The Durham High School tennis team opened up the 1968 season with two smashing wins over the Wildcats of Chapel Hill in 8-1 and 7-1 contests. The preview of the squad looked good with six returning lettermen and a crop of new sophomores.

Returning Lettermen: Robert Bressler, Tim Oates, Andy Ralston, Dennis Bryan, Bob Moore and Bill McDonald.

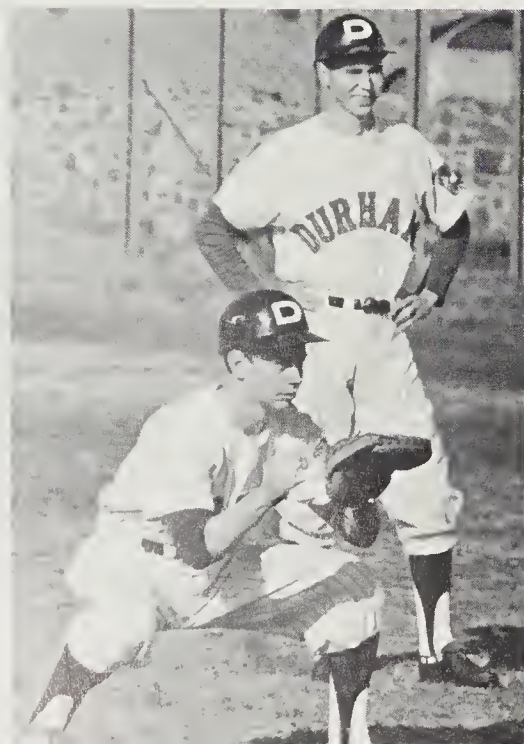

Baseball prospects look good for the Durham nine this year with experience in eight of the field positions and good underclass substitutes. Third year pitcher Fred Tippit should hold opposition runs to a minimum. Rounding out the Durham starters will be first baseman Van Hall, second baseman Herky Griffith, short-stop David Searcy, third baseman Artis Plummer, and catcher Jim Ellis. David Harris, Mike Moore, as newcomers, fill out the first nine. The squad is coached by Paul Jones.
